Chase announces two senior posts

Specialist corporate advisers, Chase Corporate Advisory (Chase), has bolstered its senior ranks with the immediate appointment of Chris Jordan as executive chairman and Andrew Gale as executive director.

The appointments come as Chase aims to capture growing demand from Australia's accountancy and financial services sectors for M&A and related transaction services expertise.

Gale has also acquired a significant equity stake in Chase Corporate Advisory, which Jeff Singh, Chase founder said indicates his commitment to the business.

Singh founded Chase Corporate Advisory in early 2011 following a 23-year career in investment banking with Barclays Capital, GE Capital and Macquarie Bank Ltd.

The firm has already completed eight transactions covering approximately $2.5 billion in funds under administration (FUA) nationally and has further mandates with around $6 billion in FUA already engaged.

Chase Corporate Advisory also appointed Richard English as a director on 1 July 2012. English was admitted as barrister in the UK in 1995 and previously had senior roles in the private wealth division of Macquarie Bank.
